NEWSLETTER | JUNE 2021

PHASE THREE

As the state continues to open back up, we are doing the same while keeping our patrons and staff as safe as possible. Appointments may now be made for up to 30 minutes and two patrons at a time are able to be inside the library at the same time. Bring a friend, or be pleasantly surprised when another community member shares the same appointment. Access to the library is Tuesday and Friday from 3pm-6pm and Saturdays 10:30 am- 1 pm. Give us a call, send an email, or connect with us through Facebook Messenger to schedule your time. We are continuing to offer curbside pick up. Please stay home if you aren't feeling well. Curbside pickup continues as well.

ONLINE BOOK GROUP IS GOING STRONG

It is never too late to join in the fun! This month the group will read and discuss Ask Again, Yes by Mary Beth Keane. This character rich story full of actions and consequences is not to be missed! Contact us for a copy of the book and to sign up. The club will meet on Zoom with a call-in option on Thursday, June 17th at 4pm.

FATHER'S DAY CRAFT

Have some fun and show the special dad in your life your appreciation. A special curbside craft giveaway for youth will occur June 14th-19th. Contact us to pick yours up by appointment or curbside while supplies last.

SUMMER READING

Our Summer Reading program will begin Monday, June 21st with the theme Tails and Tales. Keep an eye out for more information on this as well as other summer offerings as we get closer to the start date.

STORYWALK
Come check out Beekle, by Dan Santat, our latest Storywalk on the ramp leading to the library!

MEET OUR PATRONS

Evelyn Sawyer grew up in a small town in Vermont where the library was, “a cool place where you could go in and browse to your heart’s content.” As a child she often stopped by the town library while walking home from school and as a young mom with four small children, she was grateful for the resources her local library offered to both children and adults. Now, she says, “When I get into a book, it’s hard to put down until I finish.” She adds, “A few days after reading a book, I can’t always tell you all the details of the book, but I can tell you the emotion and inspiration it gave me”. Browsing through the shelves is still one of her favorite things to do when she visits Ainsworth Public Library. She missed that during the months of curbside-only service but was one of the first patrons to take advantage of the enter-by-appointment phase of re-opening. Evelyn has a varied interest in reading material and especially likes stories about people and places. She has her own collection of books by Gene Stratton-Porter, a favorite author of her youth. She finds all the library staff helpful and supportive and appreciates the time and work that goes into making the library a valuable resource for the community. She enjoyed the Reading Bingo games of the last two years as they inspired her to expand her reading interests and learn more about the library.

STAY CONNECTED

Would you like to keep up with the monthly happenings at The Ainsworth Public Library? Have our newsletter sent directly to your inbox! Email us at ainsworthcorrespondence@gmail.com and we will have our newsletter sent directly to you each month. We will not share your email with anyone else, nor will we use it for anything else but sending out our newsletter.

DONATIONS

Making a monetary donation has never been easier. On our website, you will find a tab where you can choose the dollar amount that you would like to give. No donation is too small. All money collected goes directly to purchasing new books for the library.
